When I have a home it won't have doors
Won't have windows walls or hardwood floors
No need to knock or hesitate when you wanna come over
When I have a home it won't have doors

When I have a home it won't have lights
It won't have a roof to hide the night
The sun, the moon, the stars and you'll be free to come inside
When I have a home it won't have lights

You are everywhere I wanna be
You're the only thing my heart has found that's concrete
Bricks and mortar all in order only temporary
As long as you're here my home will have all it needs

My home won't be on a boulevard
Won't be squared off by a fenced in yard
You won't need directions
It'll be right where you are
My home won't be on a boulevard

You are everywhere I wanna be
You're the only thing my heart has found that's concrete
Bricks and mortar all in order only temporary
As long as you're here my home will have all it needs

Oh, You are everywhere I wanna be
You're the only thing my heart has found that's concrete
Bricks and mortar all in order only temporary
As long as you're here my home will have all it needs
As long as you're here my home will have all it needs
